It is there when we are not.

To Mr. Smith,

the eternal optimist.
Thank you for your time
your patience
your smile
your sympathy
your enthusiasm
your dedication
your warmth
your humanness.

SENIOR DEDICATION

Best wishes to Gay and Charlie Lord.

". . . Good friend, in the path I have lately come
There followeth after me today
A youth whose feet must pass this way.
This chasm that has been naught to me
To that fair-haired youth may a pitfall be.
He, too, must cross in the twilight dim;
Good friend, I am building the bridge for him.

On the road of experience
I'm trying to find my own way Sometimes I wish that I could fly away

When I think that I'm moving Suddenly things stand still I'm afraid cause I think they always will

And I'm looking for space
And to find out who I am
And I'm looking to know and understand

We're getting older as time goes by.
A little older with every day,
but we're the children of yesterday.

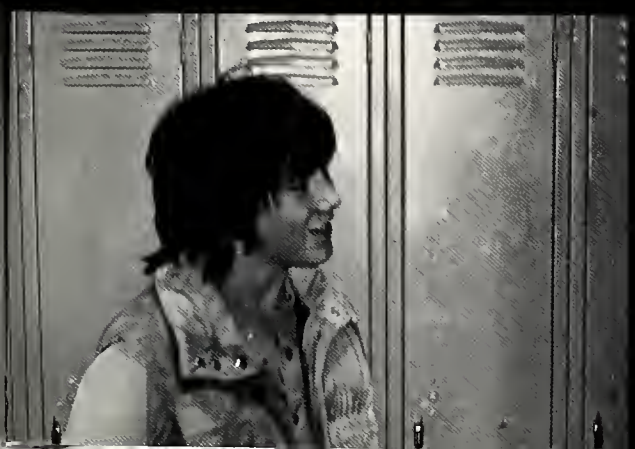
Welcome back my friends
to the show that never ends.
— ELP



There are places I remember all my life,
though some have changed,
some forever not for better,
some have gone and some remain.
All these places have their moments
with lovers and friends,
I still can recall some are dead and some are living;
in my life I've loved them all.

They say somedays you're gonna win,
They say somedays you're gonna lose.
I tell you I got news for you.
You're losin' all the time, you never win.
If you believe that's how it's gonna be,
I'd better put you down.
Get off your tightrope up there. Come down on The ground. You gotta save me now,
You better turn around.
When I looked around, I was heading down.
Won't somebody throw me down a line?

'Cause he called the forest his brother
'Cause he called the earth his mother
They drove him out into the rain
Some people even said that the boy from the country
was insane

Boy from the country left his home
he was young
Boy from the country . . .
he loved the sun . . .

He tried to tell us we should love
the land
We just turned on him and laughed
see we did not understand Sometimes I think the boy from the country is the only one who sees
'Cause the boy from the country doesn't want to see the forest through the trees

Boy from the country left his home
he was young
Boy from the country . . .
he loved the sun . . .

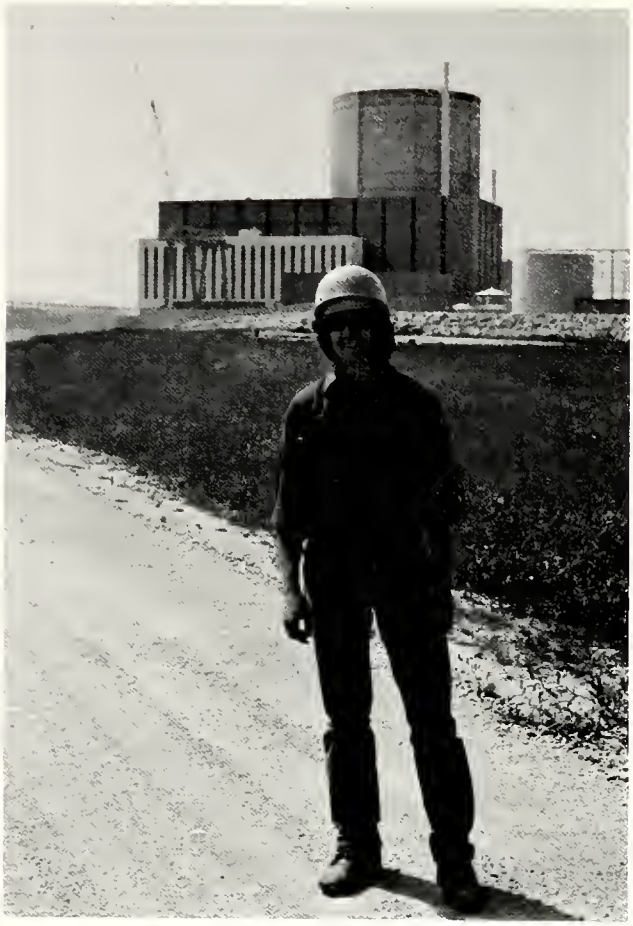
I'm going to opium dens! Yes, opium dens, dens of vice and criminals' hangouts. I've joined the Hogan Gang. I'm a hired assassin, I carry a gommy gun in a violin case! I run a string of cat houses in the Valley! They call me a Killer, Killer Wingfield. I'm leading a couble life, a simple honest warehouse worker by day, by night a dynamic czar of the underworkd. I go to ganbling casinos, I spin away fortunes on the roulette table! I wear a patch over one eye and a false moustache, sometimes I put on green whiskers. On those occasions they call me — El Diablo! Oh, I could tell you many things to make you sleepless!

Tennessee Williams



Tis not the woman
with whom you can live Tis the woman
without whom you can't.

Letting the high times
carry the low,
Just living my life
easy come easy go.

"Bird"

Well we all have a face
That we hide away forever
And we take them out and show ourselves
When everyone has gone
Some are satin some are steel
Some are silk and some are leather
They're the faces of the Stranger
But we love to try them on

I decided long ago never to walk in anyone's shadow.
If I fail, if I succeed, at least I'll live as I believe.
No matter what they take from me, they can't take away my dignity . . . George Benson

Excellence cannot be achieved; it is to be constantly sought. It is not being the best, although the best are usually those who seek it. Mankind's striving for Excellence is the sole reason for his improvement, for if Excellence ever should be attained, man will then cease to improve.

The conditions of a solitary bird are five:
The first, that it flies to the highest point;
the second, that it does not suffer for company,
not even of its own kind;
the third, that it aims its beak to the skies;
the fourth, that it does not have a definite color;
the fifth, that it sings very softly.

Looking toward the future...

As supplies of natural gas and oil continue to grow scarce, electricity will play an even larger role in meeting the expanding energy needs of our society. That's why Toledo Edison is developing new sources of energy, such as nuclear power, and planning ahead for the power needs of 1990 and beyond.

We're determined to meet this challenge and provide the best possible electric service for your generation and others that follow.

This is our new Volvo 262C, a personal luxury car built by Bertone, one of Italy's foremost automotive designers. It's part of the new look the entire Volvo line will have for 1978. So if past Volvo styling has deprived you of the pleasure of owning one, you owe it to yourself to stop by our showroom and look at Volvo now!
